

Secura Incident Response PRO

You've been hacked - your systems are down. In case of a cyber incident, you need to get back to business as soon as possible. Secura can help you recover and limit the damage. But don't wait for an attack. Incident Response PRO also helps you prepare to handle severe cyber incidents.

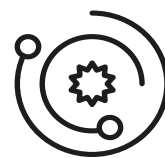

Your organization probably has prevention and detection measures in place. Your cybersecurity might even be certified to an international standard. This is excellent; but unfortunately it is not enough. Countless companies like yours get compromised every day, so it is crucial to prepare for an attack. Secura Incident Response PRO can help you.

Prepare to handle cyber incidents

Investigate and recover from cyber incidents

Implement a complete incident response cycle for regulations like DORA, NIS2

Your challenges in incident response

- How to prepare for handling severe cybersecurity incidents
- How to comply with cybersecurity regulations like NIS2 regarding incident response
- How to handle the complexity of incident response and digital forensics

How we support you

Secura helps large and medium sized organizations all over Europe raise their cyber resilience. We know the importance of digital forensics and incident response. Don't wait until you're attacked.

Secura Incident Response PRO helps you before, during and after a severe incident. The service is based on the NIST Cybersecurity Framework.

How Incident Response PRO works

We can handle your complete incident response cycle.

We conduct several assessments to check how well your organization is prepared for a cyber incident. You then receive expert advice on which steps are needed.

During an incident you can call us at any time for support, 24/7, with guaranteed response times. Your subscription means we can give you attractive discounts on our incident response fees.

After an incident we can perform a digital forensic investigation, against reduced fees.

Preparing for an incident: the Incident Response Checkup

The better you are prepared to handle cyber disasters, the less impact the incident will likely have on your business. We can help you prepare for incident response and digital forensics.

Incident Response PRO contains the following services for preparation:

1. FORENSIC READINESS ASSESSMENT

During this a one day, technical workshop, we analyze which logs are needed for threats your organization faces. We also give you advice on the implementation of forensic tools and techniques. After this assessment you can be sure that you can access the digital forensic evidence you might need in case of an incident.

2. INCIDENT RESPONSE READINESS ASSESSMENT

We evaluate your organization's ability to handle a cyber incident. We help you create an incident response plan that meets applicable standards, or test and improve your existing incident response plan. This way you reduce the downtime during an attack, minimizing the impact of an incident.

3. TABLETOP CRISIS MANAGEMENT

This exercise helps your first-in-line staff to better deal with a cyber incident. Your crisis team first receives a thorough training in crisis management. Then, during the Tabletop exercise your team undergoes a realistic simulation of an incident, to understand what happens when a crisis hits.

During an incident:

Incident Response support 24/7

When an incident occurs, you need support. Secura helps you recover and restore business as soon as possible. Our Incident Response service means you can make sure a cyber incident remains manageable and is resolved quickly. Are you in trouble? You can contact us 24/7. We guarantee a response time of less than 3 hours, but we're usually faster.

After a cyber incident:

Incident Response Aftercare

Your organization was attacked or suffered a breach. An investigation can determine what happened. A Secura Incident Response PRO subscription gives you discounted fees for all our digital forensic services:

DIGITAL FORENSICS

What exactly happened during the incident? Our digital forensics experts investigate by checking logs for traces. Secura is registered as a Private Investigation Bureau with the Ministry of Justice and Security. That means we can provide reports and documents that can be used in legal proceedings.

About Secura

Secura is a leading expert in digital security. We help our customers - from government and healthcare to finance and industry - to raise their cyber resilience.

You can expect high quality security advice, testing, training and certification services from our experts. We believe in an integrated approach to cybersecurity: people, process and technology are equally important. Since 2021, Secura is part of the international Bureau Veritas Group.

Interested?

Contact us today:

Follow us:

+31 88 888 3100

info@secura.com

secura.com

BUREAU VERITAS

Shaping a World of Trust